CALL FOR PAPERS

Dear Friends, dear Colleagues,

you are kindly invited to submit an abstract for the

First International Conference of the European Association of Phenomenology and Psychopathology (EAPP)

Heidelberg, 22nd-24th September 2022

Topic: “The Emotions: Phenomenology, Psychopathology, and Psychotherapy”

Registration: 1st January 2022

<https://the-emotions.unikt-kongresse.de/>

Due to the Corona-Pandemic the conference had to be postponed a second time, but we are confident that we are able to welcome you in Heidelberg in 2022.

Topic: Cognitive theories of feelings and emotion regulation are still dominant in contemporary research. Such theories assume that the main role of emotions and affections is cashed out in evaluating environmental scenarios based on sets of beliefs and desires with an intentional focus on objects. What is neglected in such approaches is the embodied dimension of emotional experience that comes to the fore in recent research on these issues. The conference aims at exploring and discussing the role of emotions as complex resonance phenomena from phenomenological, psychopathological, and psychotherapeutic perspectives.

In this sense we pursue the threefold target:

- to explore the interrelations of emotion, embodiment, intercorporeality and interaffectivity by phenomenological methods,
- to investigate these interrelations in psychopathology, for example in the context of schizophrenia or borderline personality disorder, and
- to demonstrate the relevance of these connections for clinical and psychotherapeutic practice.

The conference is organized by the

- European Association of Phenomenology and Psychopathology (EAPP), which was founded in Paris in 2018,
- Deutsche Gesellschaft für phänomenologische Anthropologie, Psychiatrie und Psychotherapie (DGAP)
- Alanus Hochschule für Kunst und Gesellschaft, Mannheim
